

OH, SUCH A PERFECT DAY, YOU JUST KEEP ME HANGING ON

OH, ITS SUCH A PERFECT DAY, I'M GLAD I SPENT IT WITH YOU

ARMCHAIR TREASURE HUNT 1999

YOU JUST KEEP ME HANGING ON

Time. The fourth dimension. The ultimate mystery. The ultimate prison. Time, fleeing away from us like sand escaping from a ruptured hour glass - fleeing, flying, fading away. Leaving us with all our yesterdays, all our stillborn plans and ambitions, nothing but wreckage on the vast and indifferent sea of Time. But I have sailed that sea, charted those unchartable depths. Call me the Time Traveller, for that is what I am.

Somewhen in Southern England I have concealed my winning secret box. If you can find it and unlock it (Big-hearted Arthur may be able to add some value - capital!), then you can claim my accolade and some of the Prize that my namesake won. But not everyone can do this, for I have hidden it well. Use the clues in this document, take the advice of my friend AR, do some lateral thinking and you may find it. £600 of prizes will be distributed to the gifted ones who penetrate my thoughts. However, your time is limited and you must submit your entry by Midnight 19th January 2000. To start, try to find my name and the Prize winning entry.

All entrants must work through a Logica captain. Submit your entries to my agent in this time - Steve Hames. Any legible format of entry is acceptable, eg: email to hames@logica.com, post to: 53, School Lane, Chalfont St Peter, Bucks SL9 9AZ, or internal mail to GMS/4. If you reach the secret site and the box is missing, please try to contact Steve on 01753 882313 - it is possible the box may have been disturbed by someone unconnected with this quiz.

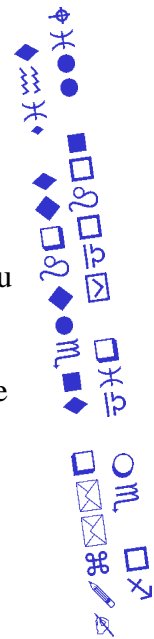

A copy of this document can be found on the Armchair Treasure Hunt web site: <http://public.logica.com/~ath>. Beware colour blind imitations. I thank you.

One cannot choose but wonder. Will he ever return? It may be that he swept back into the past, and fell among the blood-drinking, hairy savages of the Age of Unpolished Stone; into the abysses of the Cretaceous Sea; or among the grotesque saurians, the huge reptilian brutes of the Jurassic times. He may even now--if I may use the phrase--be wandering on some plesiosaurus-haunted Oolitic coral reef, or beside the lonely saline lakes of the Triassic Age. Or did he go forward, into one of the nearer ages, in which men are still men, but with the riddles of our own time answered and its wearisome problems solved? Into the manhood of the race: for I, for my own part cannot think that these latter days of weak experiment, fragmentary theory, and mutual discord are indeed man's culminating time! I say, for my own part. He, I know--for the question had been discussed among us long before the Time Machine was made--thought but cheerlessly of the Advancement of Mankind, and saw in the growing pile of civilization only a foolish heaping that must inevitably fall back upon and destroy its makers in the end. If that is so, it remains for us to live as though it were not so. But to me the future is still black and blank--is a vast ignorance, lit at a few casual places by the memory of his story. And I have by me, for my comfort, two strange white flowers --shrivelled now, and brown and flat and brittle--to witness that even when mind and strength had gone, gratitude and a mutual tenderness still lived on in the heart of man.
